

Disclaimer August 2010

Dear Tensegrity Community:

We have been asked about a couple of events termed Tensegrity “Practice Events” or “Seminars” –one in Russia and one in France in late August—which are being attempted without being authorized by Cleargreen.

Please understand that any such events which attempt to include Tensegrity movements or Magical Passes, tracking exercises or any other specific material presented in the Cleargreen-sponsored workshops, without prior approval of Cleargreen, if carried out, are infringements of international trademark and copyright law.

Cleargreen and Laugan Productions formally disclaim any involvement or liability related to these events.

Tensegrity-Events which are approved and which support the integrity of the Tensegrity Community, you will find listed on our web site.
